

Please do not preempt the state's telephone privacy act. I used to get five to six calls per day from telemarketers. Since the privacy act went into effect, I have recieved ONE call. Not one per day, JUST ONE! I attempted to get info from that company to turn them in as instucted by my state, but they were uncooperative. The telephone privacy act is such a blessing. I work night shift and not being awoken by the phone all day is a blessing...yes, I can turn my phone ringer off, but then I can't even get calls from relatives that are important! Please reconsider this!

Thank you
